The House of Orphaned and Abondoned Offspring

Part 2: Starting your adventure

The House of Orphaned and Abandonded Offspring

Keep track of the answers! Kids with good behavior get a Star. On the other hand if you mucked about you get a Bolt. Stars are awarded to the highest performing children. Any child who fails will receive a Bolt, without exception.

- Earning eleven Bolts results in immediate expulsion. Unlike you, Ms Witchling does not muck about.
- A Star can be used to forgive a small trespassing if you play it off.
- You can use 2 Stella's to get rid of 1 Bolt.

An average day at the House of Orphaned and Abandoneded Offspring looks like

- Hour of rising with chores 6:00
- Hour of rising standard 6:30
- Breakfast up to 7:00
- Work and lessons from 07:30 to 12:00
- Dinner between 12:00 and 13:00
- Work between 13:00 and 18:00
- Supper at 18:00 to 19:00
- Recreation from 19:00 to 20:00 (21:00 if older)
- Bedtime at 20:00 lights out at 21:00 (21:00 and 22:00 if older)

Morning Tasks

> The room is cramped and has a stale smell. You awaken from a restless sleep and realize that you are not the only one who has had a nightmare. The first bell rings at 6 AM and the assigned orphans rise from their beds, some still groggy, to wash up and get dressed. The girls are assigned to do the housekeeping tasks while the boys clean the fireplaces. The head mistress, Ms Witchling, a thiefling woman in her early forties, oversees the orphans with an iron hand, believing that she can save them from themselves through strict discipline. Her motto is "you can never start young enough" or "they will need to learn sometime, so why not now." The priority is that the tasks are completed to her satisfaction.

Is there anyone who is on duty?

- Do you get up on time? Wash? Dress?
- Do you muck about or do your chores?

Tasks that need completion in the morning and during the day if you are on duty

- Setting the table
- Preparing breakfast (Tea, water, bread, cheese...)
- Cleaning and lighting the fireplace in the mess hall
- Starting the loundry, making and mending clothes
- Oakum pikcing - hated by everyone
- Tending the vegetable path and the animals
- Knitting clothes or spinning coton

Duty Schedule Who is on duty? Most likely not everybody will choose to be on duty. Assign the other players with the following role they can roll play while doing chores. Otherwise you can add them on your own.

This allows the players to experiment with the world

Character	Name	Description	Link
The supervisor	Ernsta Martell	The older offspring that tries to keep everying in order.	Link
The Mother's Boy	Claude Duval	The child that wants to do everything perfect and dislikes disruption.	Link
The Beauty	Rufina Lo Duca	The child that thinks it is to pretty to work.	Link
The Slacker	Pasha Lebedev	The child that will try to avoid doing actual work.	Link
The Weird One	Aeria Jones	The child well... you know a little bit weird?	Link
The Bully	Gilad Shams	The kid that will bully the others.	Link

Breakfast

> At 06:30 AM, all the other Offspring in the orphanage are required to rise from their beds and get ready for the day. This involves washing up and getting dressed. It is mandatory for everyone to have > breakfast before 07:00 AM as this is the set schedule for starting the day. This strict routine is maintained by Ms Witchling, who runs the house with an iron hand. She believes that starting young and enforcing strict discipline is necessary to help the children grow into well-behaved and responsible individuals.

Out of bed

- Is everybody getting out of bed?
- Do you get up on time?
- Did you wash and dress?

> At 07:00 AM precisely, Ms Witchling sounds a bell and everyone falls silent, taking their place behind the table. She turns to you, "What's your name again? Oh well, never mind. Please lead the prayer."

Allow for players to roll-play this out if they want. Choose a player that has to preside the prayer moment. Remind them Ohm is the god to pray to. Even if they would have a different god. She will berate the character no matter what. If the GM is very impressed by the roll-play you may give a Star.
